

OFFICER FERREL OFF FOR THE FRAY

Accompanied by His Bloodhounds
He Leaves on a Hazardous Mission--His Many Friends Hope
That He Will be Successful

Officer Ferrel, accompanied by his thoroughbred bloodhounds, Jumbo and Beas, which he recently sold to Warden Considine of the State Prison, left last night on the local for Sacramento and will go immediately to Poison prison and then take the field after the escaped convicts. The bloodhounds are the famous ones that trailed Tracey, the murderer of Officer Ferrel's brother.

The dogs are in splendid condition and the California authorities are hopeful that they will run down the convicts in short order.

It is a perilous trip that Officer Ferrel has undertaken, because there will be only five men in his party and they will be almost at the mercy of the desperate convicts should they run them to bay.

The posse will consist of Officer Ferrel, Sheriff Bosquit and three tried and true deputies. It is a perilous undertaking and the people of Reno will await with eagerness and fear the news of the man hunt. Mr. Ferrel has promised The Journal any important news of the hunt.

WORK BEGINS ON SITE FOR CAR SHOPS

One Hundred and Fifty Men
Will be Throwing
Dirt Today

In Two Months the Establishment Will Near Completion

The most important news that Reno has ever heard, positive news, immediate in its eventuation, is that which The Journal is pleased to relate this morning to its breakfast table readers. The information settles for all time the future of this city. It justifies the scores of huge business buildings now in course of construction or contracted to be built. It gives the business men courage and will release the purse strings of careful capitalists who have hitherto feared to make investment in real estate.

Notwithstanding the remarks of scoffers the carshops of the Southern Pacific company really are coming to Reno, and at once. They will not be small repair shops, but great buildings

GREATER RENO is positively assured by the information that The Journal gives forth this morning. Hundreds of shopmen will soon be drawing salaries, and this only the beginning wherein will be built cars and other rolling stock.

And best of all, the work begins this morning. One hundred and fifty laborers are waiting for the watches to announce 7 o'clock when they will begin to throw dirt. It will be inspiring to watch the turning over of the soil preparatory to laying the foundations for the great establishment to be built here by the Southern Pacific company.

But what will give the people of Reno the greatest pleasure is the announcement The Journal makes that there will never be two isolated towns, Reno and Railroadville, but one intact city. The Southern Pacific company has not selected a site five miles from town as was feared, but has chosen ground just north of the cut-off track, between there and the Fink ranch.

The center of the location of the car shops is by actual measurement two-thirds of a mile from East Reno, one and one-fourth miles from the asylum and two and one-half miles from the Southern Pacific passenger depot. This is barely outside of town and within a year will be connected with the residence portion of this city by streets lined with dwellings.

The commercial center of Reno will remain where it is. Some branch business houses and small shops will be established at the site of the shops, but the volume of business will be transacted here.

This location is on the level ground just east of what is known as the foot of the hill and is as near the corporation limits as the railroad company could get with its desert motive power.

The roundhouse will be the first building to be constructed. It will be a monster affair of brick and stone, containing forty stalls and will have a radius of 300 feet. This will be one

Shops Nearer Town Than
Was at First Supposed

The Company Will Build a
40-Stall Roundhouse
Immediately

of the largest roundhouses in the west.

The carshops will be constructed as rapidly as possible. Only one building will be constructed this fall, but it will employ 300 mechanics. About that number will be engaged on its construction. This building will have the huge dimensions of 500x250 feet. The magnitude of this building may be better imagined by the statement that the ground floor will have 125,000 feet of floor space.

This is only one of the shops that will be built. It is no exaggeration to estimate that within a year the railroad company will have between one thousand and fifteen hundred men on its payroll here.

GALA DAY SPENT AT HISTORIC MANSION

Reno Wheelmen Picnic at Henry Riter's Delightful Resort and the Gun Club Shoot Results in Victory for the Riverside Town

About three hundred people attended the Reno Wheelmen club picnic at Bowers mansion Sunday. The Wheelmen band was in attendance and it discoursed a number of selections during the day.

The dancing platform was well patronized and the swimming pools were alive with merry bathers throughout the day.

In addition to the large crowd that went out in the morning there were a couple of carloads on the local.

One pleasant feature of the day was that there were no drunks in evidence and no brawls to mar the pleasure of the day.

The shoot between the Reno and Comstock gun clubs for the championship of the state took place during the afternoon. Reno won by the score of 171 and Virginia broke 146 pigeons.

Following are the individual scores made:

Falls Heir to a California Estate
Worth $75,000

Dr. Charles E. Mooser of this city has received the welcome intelligence that he is $75,000 richer than he was a day or two ago. He has fallen heir to a portion of a California estate appraised at half a million dollars.

The property belonged to Henry Pichor, deceased, and the estate has been in litigation in the courts of California for the past six years. It was finally taken into the Supreme Court, where it was decided.

There are five brothers, nephews of the deceased, among whom the estate is to be divided. Dr. Mooser's interest will be worth about $75,000 after all the expenses are paid.

ROME, Aug. 4, 9 a. m.--It is just given out from the Vatican that Cardinal Sarso, the Patriarch of Venice, has been elected Pope.

ONE CONVICT THOUGHT TO BE NOW NEAR CARSON

(Special to The Journal.)

PLACERVILLE, Cal., Aug. 3.--After the battle of Saturday, the convicts, fleeing from the manzanita hill, travelled with such caution, they made only seven miles in the next twenty-seven hours and at the end of that time they spent several hours at the ranch of George Heasley, near Bakersford, on Consumnes river.

While the convicts were there a posse of pursuers, under the leadership of Sheriff Norman, of Amador county, was at Somerset house, a mile and a half away. The posse is now following a short distance behind up Consumnes creek.

Convict James P. Roberts seems to have been the luckiest man of the thirteen who broke from Folsom. It is learned that he slipped away from the band immediately after the Pilot Hill fight and struck out over the state road which runs through Placerville. It is recalled when they were eating at Diehl's in Pilot Hill, one faction wanted to head straight for Nevada and it is recalled also that Roberts was of this faction.

It is thought that Roberts is probably in the vicinity of Carson and is seeking to beat his way east on the Southern Pacific.

The Danish Picnic

Over one hundred men, women and children enjoyed the Danish Society's picnic at Poor's grove Sunday. There were a number of games for old and young and a delightful basket picnic. The platform was liberally patronized, but none except sacred dances were indulged in.

OAKLAND WIN

Championship of Pacific Coast
Held Now by Good Fellows
Not Afraid to Ride Against
Reno-The Glad Hand Extended

The people of Reno have been awaiting with anxiety the news of the race at Sacramento Sunday between the Capital City Wheelmen and the Oakland club. The telegraphic flashes whetted their appetites for details. The San Francisco papers did not know that the great championship race had been run and The Journal publishes its account from the Sacramento Record Union that arrived late last night on No. 4. From the following description of the race it appears that Sacramento would be beaten by Reno at least two miles. This accounts for the refusal of the short lived champions to ride the team from this city. The Oaklanders are heartily congratulated by the Reno people and the race between Oakland and Reno for the bona fide championship will be the great event of the season. Following is the account of the race.

It was a splendid wheel contest that 2000 people saw at Agricultural Park yesterday afternoon between teams of the Capital City Wheelmen and the Oakland Wheelmen for the Pacific Coast Relay championship. The Capital City laid down the championship so recently won by them and the Oaklanders assumed the new honors with cheers for their friends of Sacramento. Whereupon the Capital City men declaring they are the best losers under the blue vault, gave the new champions three cheers, in which the large assemblage of Sacramento joined, and then the losers with their usual grace invited the winners to dine with them at 10 last night.

The race was for fifty miles in five-mile relays with these men pitted against one another: the first named in each case being home men and the second the Oakland visitors. H. Suber against Sam Hancock W. Wing against A. Roberts D. Colclough against E. Hearther C. Koegel against J. Huiat, H. Noyes against C. Bergner A. A. Flint against D. Williamson Al Sickafoose against B. Holden L. Bryon against H. Hancock W. Franklin against Gus Hearther and H. Venter against A. T. Smith.

The First Sprint
The first relay was won by the Capital City but that was the last they had to boast of. There was a splendid sprint in the first half of the fourth mile. Suber running away from Hancock handily amidst the wild cheering of the people but Hancock buckled in and by a magnificent burst of speed overhauled his competitor and at the close the two finished practically even.

A Complete Surprise
In the second relay Roberts ran away from Wing of Sacramento in the first quarter and widened the gap steadily and finished the five miles a long way leader. This loss to the Capital City put upon Colclough in the next relay the burden of wheeling unpaired and with his rival Hearther three-eighths of a mile away. With all that to take the heart out of him he rode to the close in 13:46, Oakland finishing in 12:20 the fastest five miles ever wheeled unpaired upon the Sacramento track.

Defeat Foreshadowed
From that on the Capital City made heroic efforts to recover their lost ground, and at one time it seemed that there would be only a narrow advance left for Oakland. But in the fourth relay the distance grew between riders to seven-eighths of a mile, and it so remained in the fifth. It came very dangerously near being a mile in the next relay, though Flint narrowed the space in a splendid sprint in the third mile. In the seventh relay the home team reduced the loss to three-quarters of a mile and once to less, and in the last mile Sickafoose left it only a little more than half a mile.

Nearly a Fatal Mistake
In the seventh relay, however, though Bryon made gains, the gap was a little less than three-quarters, and in the ninth relay Oakland's fast man, Gus Hearther, overtook the C. C. W. rider and passed him at the half-mile pole, finishing a good bit over a mile ahead. In the tenth relay the Oaklanders came very near losing the race. They were so overjoyed with their evident success that their managers forgot to have Smith, their crackjack, ready to take up the relay from his predecessor, Hearther. The result was that Hearther, rode on in-riding his last of five miles. Then there was shouting and hurrying to and fro and at last Smith of Oakland was mounted and sent after the runaway Venter. He saved the day, but his club lost a half mile by the blunder, whereas the C. C. W. men, who pride themselves on managing things up to the highest standard of excellence, joked their rivals unmercifully. Smith saved the day, of course, having over a mile to spare, but the victory was cut down one-half as to distance and the Oaklanders finished a good half mile leaders, when they might just as well have been victors by a mile and a quarter.

Cheerful Losers
The Capital City Wheelmen say they have no explanation to make. They met skilled athletes who out-rode them, gallant fellows and gentlemen. Both could not win and the loss of the trophy and the championship by them only postpones a little the day when they will wear the honors again. Their record shows they have been much oftener winners than losers and they rest content. The people were greatly pleased with the race and applauded to the echo and very impartially, giving the visitors all due meed of praise and compliments. It was no loafing race, but a stiff, hard fight from opening to the close, and as gallant an athletic battle as any wheel club ever put up. Under the conditions, time allowance being estimated for wind the race was fast.

The Race in Detail
The following schedule shows the time of each mile by relays.

	C C W	Oakland
First	14 25	14 23
Second	13 32	13 04
Third	13 46	12 20
Fourth	13 32	13 04
Fifth	13 13	12 49
Sixth	13 12	13 37
Seventh	13 27	13 11
Eighth	13 07	14 03
Ninth	13 33	12 52
Tenth	13 13	13 25

The race was wheeled by the C. C. W. in 2 hours, 15 minutes and 58 3-5 seconds by the Oaklanders in 2 hours 14 minutes and 30 seconds.

It may be of some interest to learn what a few of the university students are doing through the vacation season. Bainey O'Hara, according to reports, is working in the hottest part of the Con Virginia mine. His attire when at work consists of a skull cap, a pair of shoes and several hundred beads of perspiration.

Prince Catlin is down to a hard graft in the Davis & Gignoux plant at Dayton.

Ed Erickson is displaying his abilities as surveyor for the same outfit. William Kearney is out around Deeth at the head of one of Prof. Thurtell's gangs of surveyors. He is acquiring sunburn coin and experience.

Otto Helser and Sam Weller are out near the Idaho line on a surveying trip and are reported to be excessively homesick.

Fred Whitaker, better known as Squits Kelley, "Pink" Stewart, the younger Mike Leadbetter and several other university boys are out at Tonopah camping in a cabin labeled "Jacob's Roost." In addition to performing manual labor they are dabbling in stocks going to bed millionaires every night and awakening hungry.

WHEN WAS HE SINCERE?

ADDRESSING the people of Denison, Ia. on June 2, Mr. Roosevelt said

"I thing you will do me the justice to say that I do not say what I do not mean. I never say anything off the stump that I would not say on the stump. So what I say now you can take as sincere."

In view of these statements, Charles C. Edwards of Washington submits some interesting suggestions as to Mr. Roosevelt's sincerity.

Mr. Edwards is anxious to know whether Mr. Roosevelt was a sincere free trader when he was a member of the New York Free Trade Club in the early '80's, and when he said he would "die for free trade." Mr. Edwards is also anxious to know whether Mr. Roosevelt was sincere when he wrote his letter of resignation to Poultney Bigelow, secretary of the club, which letter according to Mr. Edwards was written after Mr. Roosevelt had decided to go over to Platt and the professional politicians whom he was elected to fight against and for whom he had expressed great antagonism. Mr. Edwards is anxious to know whether Mr. Roosevelt is now willing to repeat his "free trade speeches" on the stump.

In 1902 Dr. Schuman gave as a slogan for 1904, "Roosevelt, reciprocity and revision"—of the tariff. Mr. Edwards is anxious to know that if as generally supposed, Dr. Schuman then correctly summarized the Roosevelt position on the tariff as assumed from the Roosevelt speeches those in New England, is Mr. Roosevelt now willing to repeat those speeches? And if not why not?

Mr. Edwards is anxious to know if there is any truth in the widely published statement that the protective tariff league people persuaded Mr. Roosevelt to change his views when they informed him when he left Washington on April 1 that if he did not cease to talk revision they would seek to prevent his nomination.

Writing in the Review of Reviews for September, 1896 Mr. Roosevelt said:

"The men who object to what they style government by injunction are as regards the essential principles of government in hearty sympathy with their remote skinned ancestors who lived in caves and fought one another with stone headed axes and at the mammoth and woolly rhinoceros. They are interesting as representing a geological survival but they are dangerous whenever there is the least chance of their making the principles of this age-buried past living factors in our present life. They are not in sympathy with men of good minds and sound civic morality."

Mr. Edwards is anxious to know if there is any truth in his willingness to repeat on the stump the things he wrote for the Review of Reviews several years ago.

Mr. Edwards is curious to know why Mr. Roosevelt did not repeat on his recent stump tour what he said of the farmers, mechanics and workmen in his book entitled "Ranch life and the Hunting Trail." In that book Mr. Roosevelt said that although the cowboys and rough riders might be "broken by weeks of brutal dissipation," yet they are much better fellows and pleasanter companions than small farmers or agricultural laborers, nor are the mechanics or workmen of a great city to be mentioned in the same breath.

Mr. Edwards is anxious to know how as a civil service reformer Mr. Roosevelt can justify the appointment to high office of such men as Payne and Clarkson, and he is also curious to know if Mr. Roosevelt thinks it entirely proper for the president, who every year must sign many bills effecting the railroads to ride in private cars at the expense of these railroads.

And finally Mr. Edwards reminds Mr. Roosevelt, in the language of the strenuous one, "words are good when backed up by deeds and only so."

It would appear that Mr. Edwards has built up a pretty interesting case which is pretty certain to be seriously weakened by Mr. Roosevelt "making good" any of his almost numberless words.

THE VATICAN ELECTION

NOT only the members of the Catholic Church, but the people of all sects in the civilized world are looking toward Rome with the deepest interest and are awaiting with anxiety news of the election at the Vatican. In all probability a native of Italy will be chosen, and of the three Italian Cardinals who are most prominently mentioned but little is known personally in the United States. There is no monarch or other ruler on the face of the earth who possesses half the power for maintenance of international peace as the Pope of Rome, and none who is as influential as mediator in times of international strife. That the choice will fall upon one who will exercise his power as wisely and for the spiritual and temporal good of the people of all of the nations of the world as the lately departed Pontiff is the heartfelt wish of all civilized people, regardless of sect or denominational affiliation. The strong personality of Leo XIII. impressed itself on the work of the church in a remarkable manner. To those outside the church he was a character for veneration. He lived a serene and noble life, he played an important part in the modern history of the world. His spirituality, piety, sagacity, his high intellectual attainments, his well balanced mind and blameless life, made him a man admired by all.

man and the dignity of a great prelate. May the world find in his successor, as great and good-a man and Pontiff.

THE SUCKER CROP

BUT for the credulity of the average individual, the post office department would not be obliged to wage such unrelenting warfare upon "get rich quick" concerns. Almost every week announcement is made that one or more of these swindlers has been thrown out of the mails. The crop of suckers is large and as fast as one swindler is located another appears. If people would only understand that any scheme promising unusually large profits is a suspicious affair, and the chances are very much against winning, that there is capital enough seeking investment to float anything that can show such large returns as these swindles promise, so that there would be no occasion for advertising them, they would bite less readily at the bait offered them. Not all of the swindled, however, are credulous. Some, believing that these concerns pay the investors to "keep the thing going" invest their money and take the chances. It takes a large force of officials in an important department of the government service to protect the people from their own foolishness.

THESE are the days when editors write of the beauties and delights of farming, and the farmer thinks he would like to be in a noxious instead of sweltering in the hay field. Much depends upon the point of view and man is prone to desire what he has not. There is as much pleasure in writing of the farmer's life as in living it. The writer of this knows, for he has tried them both.

HAPPENINGS OF THE STATE

BRIEF RESUME OF NEWS FROM ALL THE COUNTIES.

Original Items of Interest and Short Clippings From Home Exchanges Reflecting the Day's Doings.

Wadsworth railroad shop employees are now working nine-hour shifts.

The total movement of wind through this city last month was 5150 miles.—News.

Charley Isola of Dayton had both bones of his right leg broken Friday by falling from a hay wagon.

Catfish are very plentiful at present in Washoe Lake and several good catches have been made recently by Comstock nimrods.

Since the fires in the V. & T. tunnels the railroad company has an engine equipped with hose for wetting down the timbering.

Dr. Dempsey has been appointed physician and surgeon of the Carson and Colorado Railroad Company, with headquarters at Dayton.

The Carson City Wheelmen this morning dispatched a challenge to the Oakland relay team for a race to take place in this city.—News.

James Murray, who was shot while resisting arrest at Wells, has had his leg amputated at the hip and is threatened with blood-poisoning.

John Smith, a prospector around Hawthorne for 20 years, died in the hospital there Tuesday. He was a native of Scotland aged 80 years.

Frank Plannery, who has been sick but a few days, suffering from a severe attack of peritonitis, died at his home on the Divide Saturday evening, death coming as a relief.

The Empire Plaster Works, at Empire, have been closed down for a few days, on account of the shortage of water, which is used for power. A steam plant is being installed and the works will soon be independent of the ditch.

Miller and Lux are planning to put a large weir in the river at a point which will throw the water into their ditches when there is any in the river. It is estimated that the construction of this weir will take about 150,000 feet of lumber.—Times.

The contract for the erection of Senator Brougher's new residence in Carson has been let and construction work will begin shortly. Henry Held-enreich was awarded the contract for construction and Kroeber & Cushing were the fortunate bidders for the plumbing.

Last night was the last one for the city lights and hereafter most of the town will be in darkness, unless something unforeseen occurs. The city will save $117 a month by discontinuing the lights, but on the first of the year will be about $2500 in debt.—Enterprise.

If satisfactory arrangements can be made between the Tonopah and Winnemucca baseball teams, it is more than probable that Carson will have the pleasure of seeing one of the hottest games of the National sport that has taken place in the state in a number of years.

It is a certainty that when the construction work now in progress on the line of the Southern Pacific railroad all over Nevada and in the northwestern portion of Utah is finally completed, that there will be but two division points between Ogden and Reno, says the Wells Herald. It is very generally conceded that Winnemucca will be one of these points, and it does not require much figuring to locate Wells as the other. The Herald is not alone in the prediction that this town is destined to become a division point.

End of Bitter Fight.
"Two physicians had a long and stubborn fight wit han abcess on my right lung" writes J. F. Hughes of Du Pont, Ga., "and gave me up. Every-body thought my time had come. As a last resort I tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. The benefit I received was striking and I was on my feet in a few days. Now I've entirely regained my health." It conquers all coughs, colds, and throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed by S. J. Hodgkinson, Drug Store. Price 50c, and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Boy Cured of Colic After Physician's Treatment Had Failed.

My boy when four years old was taken with colic and cramps in his stomach. I sent for the doctor and he injected morphine, but the child kept getting worse. I then gave him half a teaspoonful of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and in half an hour he was sleeping, and soon recovered.—F. L. The Death Penalty.
A little thing sometimes results in death. Thus a mere scratch, insignificant cuts or puny boils have paid the death penalty. It is wise to have

LOCAL MINES AND MINING

PROGRESS OF AN IMPORTANT INDUSTRY IN NEVADA.

New Discoveries, Development Work, Shipment and Reduction of Ore Reported From Every County.

Work was resumed at the North Rapidan mine in Como yesterday.

Drill hole No. 5, on the Brunswick lode, was down 185 feet Saturday night, when the breaking of a rod caused a suspension of work. Drilling was resumed by the 3 o'clock shift yesterday afternoon.

Persons in from Kennedy say that the Wynn & Lasher mill was fired up yesterday and will be started up on ore from the Borlasco and other mines owned by the company. Teams are now hauling ore to the mill and a steady and profitable run is expected.—Standard.

On Monday night another ledge was struck in the north crosscut on the 512 level of the Montana-Tonopah, at a distance of 236 feet from the shaft. The ledge, which has now been cut through, is eight feet wide, carries high values, and has the appearance of being one of the strongest ledges cut in the mine.

Dr. A. Hudgens and J. D. McCartney have taken a bond on two gold claims owned by Sam Hayes in Pine Grove. The bond is for one year and those securing it are to do so much development work on the claims for a two-third interest in the property. The claims show up fairly well on the surface and it is believed that they will develop into good mines with the right kind of work done on them. Development work will begin very soon.—Lyon County Times.

The DeLamar Lode says that private letters from Searchlight state that many of the families have left the town and most all of the striking miners are seeking employment in Arizona. Most of the miners remaining belong to what is known as the tough element, which floated in from Colorado and Arizona, and are always engaged in strikes and disturbances. Dispatches received by Sheriff Johnson on Saturday state that shooting has been indulged in and dynamiting was threatened against the properties but no explanation as to the origin of the shooting is given.
